All eBird checklists from The Big Sit! held on October 9 and 10, 2021 have been received and numbers have been tallied. We are using the eBird criteria for determining numbers of species and taxa. This year we have a tie for most species recorded by a circle. The two leading circles, with 97 species each, are the Smith Neck Road Circle in Old Lyme, Connecticut, and the Big Sit Zeiss Birding Team, Segerstads fyr, in Kalmar län, Sweden. The circle in Connecticut is new this year, and the circle in Sweden had participated in years past. Congratulations to both groups!

Other circles at the top are Elfin Forest Preserve--Lupine Point Overlook in California with 95 species; The Lost Tinamous Team at Finca La Gracia in Guatemala with 91 species; the Brookline Bird Club's circle at Hellcat Dike in the Parker River National Wildlife Refuge in Massachusetts with 86 species; and the circle at the Dixon Waterfowl Refuge at Hennepin and Hopper Lakes in Illinois, also with 86 species.

Due to changes at Birdwatcher's Digest, the New Haven Bird Club resumed management of The Big Sit! in 2020. We are a small club and had to use a combination of approaches to keep The Big Sit! going. We built a website to inform the participants; we switched to use of eBird for data handling; and we started a Facebook page for comments, chats, and photos. (Please continue to chat with us and other circles on Facebook, and share your pictures of scenery, birds and birders, and your snacks.)

Most importantly it was the circle compilers and participants who jumped in to keep the tradition alive. Many organizations still use The Big Sit! to raise funds for conservation. eBird added an important aspect to The Big Sit! eBird offers a simple user interface, an ease of effort tracking, an ability to capture GPS coordinates and location management, and accessibility to the data that could be invaluable to scientists studying bird migration on a continental scale. Data can be exported from eBird and shared as a spreadsheet.

Many circles were held on public lands: National Wildlife Refuges, Nature Preserves, and Wildlife Sanctuaries. It is important to point out how important these lands are to bird migration. The birds certainly bring us to beautiful places.

This year The Big Sit! had four countries participating: Australia (1 circle, 26 total species), Guatemala (1 circle, 91 species), Sweden (1 circle, 97 species), and the United States of America (92 circles, 349 species). Hopefully in the future we can increase the number of circles and attract Big Sit! circles in other countries and on other continents.

THE RESULTS

Number of Circles in 2021 (includes circles that reported on both days) – 95 (102 in 2020)

The Best Overall Count (most species identified by a single circle). Tie with 97 species: Smith Neck Rd, Old Lyme CT, and Big Sit Zeiss Birding Team, Segerstads fyr Sweden

Longest Duration of a Circle – Shavers Creek, Huntington, Pennsylvania USA, 22 hours and 45 min

The Big Sit! Total Number of Species Reported – 573 (472 in 2020)

The Big Sit! Total Number of Birds Reported – 535,767 (194,484 in 2020)

Most Common species was the American Crow, reported by 72 circles (78% of all circles). In 2020 there was a tie between American Crow and Turkey Vulture, reported by 79 circles (77% of all circles).

There are a few technical issues that the New Haven Bird Club will try to work out. For example, eBird has a problem with an open stationary checklist for long periods of time, and we still need to find a better way to record participants. We will continue to improve on The Big Sit! in the future. Our hope is to grow the event across all countries and continents so we can have a valuable snapshot of bird migration across the planet and have fun at the same time.
